Sagacious Wolves.

Whenever wolves associate together for mischief here is a numerous train of smaller ones to follow in the rear and act as auxiliaries in the work of destruction. Two large wolves are sufficient to destroy the most powerful horse, and seldom more than two ever begin the assault, although there may be a score in the gang. It is not less curious than amusing to witness their ingenious mode of attack. If there is no snow or little on the ground, two wolves approach in the most playful and careening manner, lying, rolling and frisking about, until the two credulous and unsuspecting victim is completely put off his guard by curiosity and familiarity. During this time the gang, squatting, are looking on at a distance. After some time spent this way, the two assailants separate, when one approaches the horse's head the other his tail, with a shyness and cunning peculiar to themselves. At this stage of the attack their frolicsome approaches become very interesting; the former is a mere decoy, the latter is the real assailant, and keeps his eyes steadily fixed on the ham strings or flank of the horse. The critical moment is then watched, and the attack is simultaneous; both wolves spring at their victim at the same instant—one at the throat the other at the flank—and if successful, which they generally are, the hind one never lets go his hold till the horse is completely disabled. Instead of springing forward or kicking to disengage himself, the horse turns around and round, without attempting a defense. The wolf before then springs behind to assist the other. The sinews are then cut and in half the time I have been describing it the horse is on his side; the struggle is fruitless—the victory is won. At this signal the lookers-on close in a gallop, but the small fry of followers keep at a respectable distance until their superiors are gorged, and then they take their turn unmolested.

Jupiter.

Jupiter's diameter is about eleven times that of our earth, and his mean density is about a quarter that of the earth, or about a third more than water. Now a bulky body may be composed of heavy materials, and still, as a whole, be light like an iron ship or a lump of pumice-stone, that will float in water. The pumice lump is light on account of its vesicular formation, so that the mass consists of heavy felspathic material and the air it contains. Extract the air, and the pumice loses its floating power, though still far from heavy in proportion to its bulk. Most of the earth's crust is formed of solids much heavier than water. Granites are more than two and a half times heavier than water, slaty rocks much about the same, and so are ordinary limestones, the variations of all being from about 2.5 to 2.9. The ironstones, 4.5 to 5.3, etc., and many other ores are heavy. At some remote period, when only part of the solid earth had been condensed from gaseous and vapory matter, our planet might have had a mean density like that of Jupiter, as its rocky materials contain but twenty-four and fifty per cent. of oxygen, and while condensations and chemical combinations were going on rapidly our globe must have been the scene of "Thunder, lightnings and prodigious storms." And it is probable that certain stars which have suddenly blazed forth with passing splendor have exhibited to us the spectacle of conflagrations extending over millions and billions of square miles. Color-changes in Jupiter—such as those noticed by Mr. Browning and the writer in 1869-70—may have been caused by soda-flames, though not fierce enough or extensive enough to add materially to his ordinary luminosity, which is estimated as always exceeding, though not in a very high degree, what it would be by mere reflection of light received from the sun.—Belgrave.

The first gas ever exhibited in New York was from a lamp erected by the old gas company in 1823, in Franklin square. It caused great curiosity, and was nightly visited by crowds.

The young lady who was blamed for allowing her glove to be discovered in a young man's pocket stated that she had no hand in it.

The memory ought to be a store house, but many make it a lumber yard.

Young Widows.

Widows are an attractive and frequently an engaging class of ladies, that fill a very important niche in society, the subject both of envy and admiration. We have seen them in the throes of their bereavement, when they utterly refused to be comforted, declaring that their hopes all lay buried with their first and only love, in the narrow-made grave of their dear departed; and their screaming eyes behind mourning veils have caused the sympathetic sob to swell up from the bosoms of all who listened. But, as the time wore on, we have observed with satisfaction—for we would not have them weep always—that comfort invariably comes to the young widow's heart and that hope is restored to her troubled mind. We were called upon sometime ago to attend the funeral of a young and noble fellow who left a pretty widow to mourn his untimely taking off. She sat by the side of her unconscious love, dressed in the most sombre, but at the same time most becoming mourning, with her lovely hair arranged with infinite labor and care in glossy finger-puffs all over her shapely head, and her black-bordered handkerchief went ever and anon to her streaming eyes. Ever and anon she talked in tones soft, tremulous and low to the inanimate clay that was soon to be hidden away forever, telling him her heart would throw always for him alone; and what a dreary blank the world would ever be to her without his presence. Then, in a sudden burst of grief and wild despair, she sought the undertaker to let the friends fill the carriage and drive away, leaving her dearly beloved with her. But the funeral went on in the usual way, and the fair mourner, returned to her stricken home, crushed and disconsolate. But, thanks to the soothing hand of Time, ere her widow's weed had grown the worse for wear her spotless cap had become mussed or soiled, she rallied sufficiently to marry the dear friend of her late departed, and her loving heart now reposes on the bosom of another. How fortunate that her young, crushed affections have such wonderful elasticity, as soon as a desirable provocation presents itself. Pity is akin to love, and the former sentiment awakens kindly sympathy for the fair mourner, that quickly ripens into a tenderness that clothes her young heart into a sweet forgetfulness and makes life around her look bright once more. She becomes the pet of society, a pleasant companion, a charming sweetheart and a dangerous rival, and we pity the girl that has to battle against her.

WIVES.—What the true man wants with a wife is her companionship, sympathy and the holy blending of two souls in love, which worketh peace. The way of life has many dreary places in it, and man needs a companion to go with him. A man is sometimes overtaken by misfortune; he meets with failure, disappointment and defeat; trials and temptations beset him and he needs one to stand by and sympathize. He has some hard battles to fight with poverty, enemies, and with vice and sin; and he needs a woman that, when he puts his arms around her, he feels he has something to fight for; she will help him to fight; that will put her lips to his ear, and whisper words of comfort and counsel, and put her hand to his heart, and impart inspiration. All through life, through storm and through sunshine, conflict and victory, through adverse and favoring winds, man needs a woman's love. The heart yearns for it. A sister's or another's love will hardly supply the need.

A New Boot Sole.—A Chicago boot manufacturer has introduced what he is pleased to call an undestructible sole, in which nickel plated steel rivets are embedded in the leather. These rivets are forced through perforations from the inside of the sole to its outer surface, and being less in length than the thickness of the leather, the head is securely embedded, and does not drop out as the sole becomes worn. Owing to the nickel-plating, it is claimed there is an entire absence of rust.

A carpenter who was always prognosticating evil to himself was one day upon the roof of a five-story building upon which the rain had fallen. The roof being slippery he lost his footing, and as he was descending toward the eaves he exclaimed, "Just as I told you!" Catching, however, in an iron support, he kicked off his shoes and regained a place of safety, when he thus delivered himself: "I know'd it; there's a pair of shoes gone."

A philosopher says, "You require in marriage precisely the same quality that you would in eating sausage—absolute confidence."

It is said that bleeding a partially blind horse at the nose, will restore him to sight—so much for the horse. To open a man's eyes, you must bleed him at the pocket.

"Mamma, what are twins made of?" Her precocious brother replied, "so the cannibals may eat philopones."

The unwhimsies of man proceeds from his inconsistency.

Paint and broken are the sound of sorrow.

Is the man who dices off pigs feet reduced to extremities?

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, MARCH 18, 1890.

The Shermines in the Louisiana State Central Committee controlled it and called a Convention for May 24. They say they will send a Sherman delegation to Chicago.

The President has summarily dismissed Major Reno from the service.

The government having condemned to death Chang How, its late Ambassador to Russia, there is likely to be difficulty between Russia and China.

The Socialists of Montreal are becoming defiant.

Trux Carson, Tribune of the 15th says:

A writ of habeas corpus was issued out of the Supreme Court to-day, and directed to Lloyd Hill, Sheriff of this county, commanding the Sheriff to have the body of Geo. S. Elder before Thos. Pawley, Justice Supreme Court, on Wednesday the 17th inst., and then and there show cause why he detains Geo. S. Elder as a prisoner. This is a case intended as a test on the question whether or not the District Court in and for this county and State can compel the prisoner Elder to bring his money from California and deposit it in said District Court, and made subject to judgment of record in said District Court.

In this connection we give the following:

In the case of F. A. Prevost vs. George S. Elder, on trial to-day in the District Court, the defendant was placed on the stand to make showing as to what funds and property he possessed. During the examination Elder admitted that he had secreted $3,000 in a lumber yard in Bodie and that the money was still in his hiding place. Now, for the lumber yard.

On Sunday last, Mrs. Joseph Hamilton, of Sacramento, a very good looking, intelligent, lady-like, and evidently a "plucky woman," of thirty years of age, fired three shots at Miss Nettie Hinkley. One shot entered the girl's upper lip, and, passing around, came out just back of the left jaw; another entered her lip, producing only a flesh wound—neither of them being likely to prove serious. Cause jealousy.

The Constitution prohibiting Corporations from employing Chinamen, the Jute Company of East Oakland discharged them, and reincorporated. On Monday last they resumed work and 750 Chinamen are in their old places again. This was the Constitution evaded.

On Sunday last, at Sacramento, Charles Smith attempted to stab his wife to death, but she warded off the blows from her body and was badly cut on the arm. When arrested he claimed that he had a right to, as she was his wife.

At Folsom many persons who have hitherto considered grape culture unprofitable, are this Spring extending their vineyards by setting out new vines, and many are putting out new vineyards who were never before interested in grape culture.

The mail route between Eureka and Belmont has been extended on to Candelaria, and the road between Candelaria and Belmont is to be or has been stocked with horses to be used on the route.

It is related of Blind Tom that when at his Georgia home he remains alone with his piano, in a building apart from the others, and plays day and night like a madman.

The Bodie Chronicle comes to us as a daily. The Chronicle is a good paper, and its prospectus speaks well for the town and county where it is published.—San Luis Obispo Advocate.

In Los Angeles county the grain crop looks splendid; orchards are looking well, and the prospects are good for a large yield of fruit.

An enterprising gentleman from San Francisco has leased 1,000 acres, more or less, one mile west of Copperopolis, for the purpose of raising eagles. What next?

The Atlantic and Great Western Railroad Company is now known as New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Railway Company.

The Central Pacific Company contemplates establishing an extensive cattle yard in Sacramento.

O'Leary won the pedestrian match in San Francisco, scoring 516 miles to Weston's 490.

All the good land in Mason Valley is taken up. Government land, unimproved, is held at $2 an acre and above.

Yone city, was water works and a new school house.

Telegraphic.

COAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17th.—Blackhawk levies an assessment of 25 cents. The Supreme Court to-day rendered a decision quashing all proceedings in Lake Merced case.

Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—Elizabeth, wife of Joshua Smith, residing on the corner of Diamond and Jersey streets, committed suicide last night by taking strychnine. The act is attributed to worry at prospect of their property being sold for taxes.

Outing Afirey.

John N. Brady and Malheur Fitzsimmons, inmates of the County Hospital, became engaged in a quarrel at that institution this morning while arguing about Kearny's sentence, when Brady drew a knife and cut Fitzsimmons in the abdomen, inflicting a very dangerous wound.

Miscellaneous.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—This afternoon James Morrissey entered a room at 217 Third street, in which George Squires and two women were sitting drinking, and in a few moments became involved in a quarrel with Squires. Morrissey seized a pitcher, with which he knocked Squires down and began to beat him, when the landlord ran in and pulled him off. Squires on recovering his feet attacked Morrissey with a butcher knife, stabbing him in four places and causing his death in a few minutes.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—The Southern Pacific Railroad reached Tucson to-day, and the track were laid through the town.

Inquiry into the origin of the fire on the City of Sidney has developed nothing definite as to its origin. The insurance adjuster approximates the total loss at $30,000 on vessel and cargo. Cabin upholstery badly damaged by water.

Non-parading portion of the Irish societies held literary exercises at Grand Opera House this afternoon. The building was packed. President E. N. McCarthy delivered an address. James T. Noon recited a poem, and Dr. Shorb delivered the oration. Music and recitations were added to the entertainment, which must have netted a handsome sum for the Relief Fund.

The paraders assembled on corner of Howard and 5th streets, but owing to the inclemency of the weather instead of marching through the principal street, proceeded direct to Woodward's Garden and held exercises in the Pavilion, which was crowded. John Kerney, President, delivered a brief address. J. N. Sheehy, was the Poet and Judge Fernal, Orator.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—The weather to-day interfered with the parade by that portion of the Irish societies which decided upon having one. There is some display of bunting, and the literary exercises of both factions will be carried on according to programme.

De Lesseps arrived by overland train about 1:30 p. m. He was met at Denica by deputations of French citizens, and on arrival here proceeded to Palace Hotel.

Legislative.

SACRAMENTO, March 17th.—SENATE.—After reading the journal, Johnson moved to take from the table the report of the Committee on Elections on the Deasy election contest. Carried. A resolution was offered declaring the seat vacant, and requesting the Governor to call a new election. Adopted by a unanimous vote. Under the law passed last session, only ten days notice is required before special elections. The Committee on Education recommended the passage of the bill providing for free public libraries. The substitute bill by Hittell, for removing officers of Mining Corporations by the share holders thereof, was read the second time and ordered to engrossment.

EASTERN.

Major Reno. WASHINGTON, March 17.—The President is indignant at Reno's conduct in failing to save himself from utter degradation by resigning, and has summarily dismissed him from the service.

Russia and China.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The Herald's Shanghai special says: I hear the Pekin authorities have condemned Chang How late Ambassador to Russia to death. This carries with it grave complications, for the Czar will certainly resent the severe punishment. A sudden warlike spirit seems to have gained possession of the Chinese.

Crime.

Boston, March 17.—Homer Wellington, who lately withdrawn from the firm Utley and Boynton, Commission merchants, has been arrested, at instance of his father-in-law, on a charge of being a defaulter and forger. Wellington's family has been seriously sick, the disease being called gastric fever. His infant son and wife lately became ill; she received some porridge which he had prepared for her and an analysis showed arsenic sufficient to kill ten persons; arsenic was found in possession of Wellington when arrested. He is said to have made a confession. The police say his infatuation for another woman was the cause of the crime.

Political.

NEW ORLEANS, March 17.—The Republican State Central Committee remained in session nearly all of Monday night; the meeting was stormy; the Grant men wanted the Convention to be held in April, but the Shermines carried it for May 24th. The latter declared they would be able to send delegates to Chicago. Democratic sentiment is in favor of Hancock, and it is almost impossible to find a Tilden man. Democrats are often heard to remark as between Grant and Tilden, they are for Grant.

Bodie Mines.

NEW YORK, March 17.—B. Miner, of San Francisco, addressed the Bullion Club yesterday, on the subject of the Bodie Mining District. Several other gentlemen conversant with kindred topics, also made addresses. The press here are paying more attention to mining matters, several of them having mining departments as well as a financial column.

Senators Jones and Sharon.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Senator Jones, of Nevada, appeared in the Senate yesterday for the first time since the holiday recess. He was warmly greeted by his hosts of friends on both sides of the chamber. He announced his intention to remain until the end of the session. It is not thought that Sharon will re-occupy his seat this session.

Lynch Law.

WINCHESTER, Ill., Mar. 17.—At 1 o'clock this morning 100 masked men boldly walked up to the jail, battered down the door, disarmed the guards and jailer, and with revolvers compelled him to give up the keys. They then opened the cell of Joseph T. Field and dispatched him with pistol shots. Field murdered James Blodgett on February 25th.

Outlawry in Texas.

DALLAS, Tex., March 17.—A party of drunken cowboys hold Seymour, the county seat of Baylor county. Twelve invaded the court room, and released prisoners on trial. The constable who followed them was shot at three times. The State troos are expected, the Governor having been appealed to.

Murdered.

AURORA, Ill., March 17.—Early this morning Mrs. W. Baldwin was found dead in bed, with her jugular vein severed, and beside her lay her unconscious husband with several gashes in his throat, arms and abdomen. His wounds are not dangerous. Baldwin came from Vermont, and had been married only three weeks.

It is learned that the report of the Commission of the Post Office Department Officials, on the subject of Wells, Fargo & Co's letter-carrying business, takes ground that the whole business should be prohibited. This recommendation is based primarily upon the general proposition that the Federal Government ought to monopolize the carriage of letters throughout its entire jurisdiction, and that such has been the uniform tenor of all legislation and of all decisions upon the subject since the date when the Constitution was adopted. This will be seriously felt by all classes on the Pacific Coast.

A cablegram from Paris to the New York Herald says: Experiments are being made here with the polycope, a new apparatus for illuminating the interior of animal organs, rendering bodies transparent so as to render an examination of every portion of a body feasible. The attention of scientists is drawn toward this remarkable discovery.

All Associations.

WHILE SO MUCH IS BEING PAID AND written in regard to the insurance, it is well to keep the claims of the above named association before the public. This society is organized for the purpose of affording mutual protection to the families of deceased members. It is founded upon a firm basis, and its rates are very low. For further information apply to T. M. GILSON, Agent.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, MARCH 18, 1880.

The Chronicle Office is on the second floor of "Goodman's Building," east side of Main street, between Standard Avenue and Green street.

For Printing.—Job printing of the finest description will be furnished at this office at Sacramento prices.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

ARRIVALS YESTERDAY.

G. M. Eves, John Warner and wife, G. W. Trumb, G. W. Kelly, L. Baum, Andrew Casey, Mrs. Blackwood and child, C. Bladell, and C. Chinn.

DEPARTURES YESTERDAY.

A. W. Bland, S. J. Walrus, C. A. Maice, Mrs. Walker, Fred Elliot, F. C. Gil, C. Loscove, C. W. Wright.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—A. E. Lovious was tried yesterday morning in Justice Peterson's Court and the jury disagreed. He is out on bail, and will appear again this morning.

Henry Olds, who has been in jail for the past week, for felony, was taken before Judge Newman yesterday. A great deal of testimony was taken and the case was continued till this morning.

CHANGE.—The Grand Central Hotel will hereafter be under the exclusive control of S. N. Pitcher, Dr. Summers having retired. We commend him and his to the traveling public.

SCARC.—Beef cattle are not plenty, and it is with great difficulty that our butchers can secure even a moderate supply. When the snow goes off there will be a change for the better.

THE BALL.—The ball given last evening at Miners' Union Hall, by Neptune Hose Company No. 3 was well attended and everything passed off pleasantly.

DEAD.—Mammoth City is about as good as dead—a warning not to run after every place that is boasted into notoriety by newspapers.

COMES RIGHT ALONG.—A gentleman from San Francisco informs us that the Bay City is dull, and that any one that can get away is coming to Bodie.

HALF-SHAVE.—Yesterday a man, after being half-shaved, informed the barber that he had no money, whereupon the barber walked off and his customer did the same.

DELINQUENT TAXES.—Delinquent taxes to the amount of $5,008.39 have been collected—leaving about $6,000 unpaid. This is not creditable for Mono county.

COASTING.—At 8 o'clock yesterday morning a small school-boy, while coasting, was upset, thrown about twenty feet, landing upon his back and bruising his neck.

DELEGATES.—Is it not about time for the Republican Central Committee to move in the matter of Mono delegates to the State Convention.

BURGULARY.—Ben Butler's house was entered last night and robbed of a quantity of clothing, bed clothing, etc.

SUPERIOR COURT.—This Court, Hon. R. M. Briggs Judge, presiding, has adjourned until Monday next.

SCHOOL MONIES.—County Treasurer Tinkum has received $2,177.29 from the State for the public schools of Mono.

WOOD.—The price of wood continues at $20 per cord.

Eastern exchange: It is not surprising, when we come to think of it that America is sending hundreds of thousands of dollars to Ireland. During the past five years servant girls and hotel waiters in this country have fallen heir to millions of dollars by the death of rich uncles in Ireland, and there's no more money left in the old country.

John I. Ginn, for many years a Comstock newspaper man, but now editor of the Bodie Standard, talks of starting a paper in Canada during the coming month. So says the Supto Independent.

According to the Eureka Leader, a Chinaman at that place remarked: "Kearney he go hell, Chinaman go New York." And he beloit how added and he will make hell of New York.

The bogus five dollar gold pieces have made their appearance in Sacramento, and plenty of them, at that.

The Santa Cruz Copper material has been removed to Tacoma, W. T., where Patrick & Lachson will publish a paper.

John B. Hawley has resigned the office of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Steps have been taken to establish a free reading-room in Stockton.

It is expected that the emigration from Ireland this year will be larger than usual.

An unusual rush of emigrants from Ireland to this country is expected this year.

Los Angeles county this year will have 1,500,000 grape vines set out.

An ice-making company has been organized at Stockton.

There's work on abject principles.

Millions never think a noble thought.
